Invisalign Chilliwack

Invisalign translucent removable aligners work like braces to help align your teeth at the same time as being more aesthetically appealing than conventional metal braces. Invisalign braces calls for the use of a succession of translucent customized aligners that are comfy to wear and very durable, yet are detachable for times when you have to brush, floss, eat, or drink. They are set up to be replaced about every two weeks, aiding your teeth to move steadily, week by week until they have shifted into the preferred position.

Normally, an Invisalign treatment may take up to a year to complete, which is less time than traditional braces. Every month or so, you will probably have to come in for an appointment to evaluate the treatment and sometimes you will be given additional aligners to continue the program. One whole treatment with Invisalign might consist of somewhere between 18 to 30 aligners to be worn throughout, with the amount depending on the severity of every case.

Luckily, Invisalign can be used to treat the bulk of orthodontic issues like crowding, widely spaced teeth, overbites, crossbites, and underbites. Also, they can be used to take care of issues in both teens and adults.

The greatest benefits to using transparent aligners are that no wires or metal bands are present to annoy the mouth and they are nearly imperceptible, people will probably not even become aware of them.
